Ready-to-send, fill-in-the-blank sexting that builds tension and sells, without freezing up mid-chat.

Good sexting is not about being the most explicit the fastest. It is a build: you set a scene, raise the temperature one step at a time, and let the sale happen inside the fantasy instead of interrupting it. These templates give you a line for every beat so you never freeze mid-chat. Fill in the [brackets], match their energy, and move one step at a time.

Openers that set a scene

Start with a situation, not a question. Give them something to picture.

THE SCENE-SETTER

just got out of the shower and i'm still in a towel deciding if i even want to put clothes on. keep me company?

THE CONFESSION

i have to tell someone or i'll go crazy. i've been thinking about [fantasy] all day. can i tell you the details?

Raise the temperature

One step at a time. Narrate, then invite them in.

tell me what you'd do first if you were here right now. i want to see if we're on the same page.

i just moved the [item] out of the way and got comfortable. now it's just me thinking about you.

you're making this worse in the best way. i'm not going to be able to stop thinking about this.

Sell inside the fantasy

Do not break character to sell. Make the content the next beat of the story.

THE SEAMLESS SELL

i can't just tell you what happens next... i filmed it. want me to send you exactly what i was picturing?

i'm too worked up to type it all out. let me show you instead, it's so much better on camera.

Fill-in-the-blank ladder

Your escalation, one rung per line.

- Rung 1 (warm): 'i keep getting distracted thinking about [thing].'
- Rung 2 (build): 'if you were here i'd [action], slowly.'
- Rung 3 (peak): 'i can't stop now. i need to show you [content].'
- Rung 4 (sell): 'it's waiting for you. unlock and finish this with me.'

Reset lines when the energy dips okay i need a sip of water, you have me flustered. where were we...

don't you dare go quiet on me now, i was just getting to the good part.
